Interstate Commission
Issues Momentous Decision on Valuation in O'Fallon Case.

FIERCE LITIGATION
IS HELD CERTAIN

Majority Report Disregards
Roads' Contentions
To Base Value on Present
Cost of Rebuilding.

Washington, March 31.—(AP)—Federal valuation of railroads, for rate making and all other purposes, will be based upon costs, prices and wages prevailing during 1914 rather than upon the much higher levels of later years, a majority of the interstate commerce commission decided today.

Railroad officials saw in the findings, which were handed down in sustaining the government's attempt to collect excess income from the St. Louis and O'Fallon railroad, a decision which may sway the computations attached to railroad property by billions of dollars.

"We are dealing here with one small railroad," said the majority opinion written by Commissioner Meyer, with Commissioners Eastman, McManamy, Lewis, Esch and Campbell concurring. "Nevertheless, what we do in this case we must in principle do for all the railroads of the United States."

Of Great Consequence.
"Whatever our decision is, its effect in money is relatively unimportant in this particular case; but, having in mind the whole railroad situation, the decision is of the greatest consequence from the public and private viewpoints."

As the first effect of the sweeping policy outlined, the St. Louis and O'Fallon company was ordered to pay to the government, within 90 days, $226,878, this amount being half the excess earnings the commission decided that it had in the years 1921 to 1924, inclusive.

For other carriers, the prospect now is clear that demands for excess earnings, in amounts many times as great, will be forthcoming from the government, though the final payments will not be met until the litigation is carried to the supreme court for confirmation or rejection of the commission's policy.

In a lengthy opinion reciting all the facts, the majority of the commission explained that it was bound by law to find valuation for all the railroads in the country on the basis of 1914 rates, and that it also was bound to fix railroad rates that would enable efficient carriers to earn 5.54 per cent annually on their valuation.

Further, the law provides that in case any railroad earns more than 6 per cent annually on the ascertained valuation of its property, the government is entitled to take half of the excess into the treasury, and, out of the fund so built up, to sustain lines that are necessary but unable to make earnings.

The St. Louis and O'Fallon company, with a 9-mile line in St. Louis, was one of the first to present the issues in a government attempt to recapture earnings.

Rail Contention.
In attempting to find the valuations the decision said the commission has determined to disregard the railroad contention that their property is worth what it would cost to rebuild at present. Instead, the roads will be valued as worth what it would have cost to produce them in 1914, plus whatever actual sum has been invested in them since, and less whatever depreciation has occurred. Such a valuation basis, it was said, will not disturb the investing public, which is accustomed to it now, nor the present level of railroad rates.

The function of this commission is not to act as an arbiter of economics but an emergency of congress, to apply the law of the land to facts committed to our jurisdiction," said a minority dissenting opinion in which Commissioner

Polly Is Going To Be Married

Everybody concerned is perfectly happy about Polly's marriage. She is going to wed a perfectly fine young man; his salary is not very large, but Polly is going to be a wonderful home manager.

Her mother, was a consistent reader of advertisements in The Constitution, and Polly is going to follow her example. She will buy economically and judiciously.

She will read the advertisements in The Constitution every morning, do her shopping, and attend to all her household duties.

In the evening she will be ready to join her husband in some form of entertainment or diversion, for they both are firm believers in taking a part of the day for amusement.

Both being young, neither knows anything of those old days when the bulk of the people sat at home reading anything that was handy—for lack of something else to do. Advertising in The Constitution gets first consideration of the bulk of the people of this community.

HOLDERS AGAINST
BECOMING PANICKY

Bankruptcy Proceedings
Filed Against Firm Do
Not Affect Many Bonds,
Says President.

With the filing Thursday in district court of two petitions of involuntary bankruptcy against the Adair Realty & Trust Co., and against the Adair & Senter Co., a construction corporation, Judge Samuel H. Sibley appointed Eugene R. Black as receiver in the former action and with-held selection of a receiver in the latter, while Forrest Adair, president of the realty company bearing his name, issued a statement advising holders of Adair bonds to retain them, with the assurance that the great majority of bonds issued by that concern are good regardless of whether the guarantee issued with them adds anything to their value.

In the appointment of Mr. Black as receiver for the Adair Realty & Trust Co., it was stressed that the selection was made not only because of his prominence as a business man but because the appointment would be an impartial one, inasmuch as the Atlanta Trust company, of which Mr. Black is president, has had no business dealings with the Adair concern.

In cautioning investors in Adair bonds against sacrificing them needlessly, Mr. Adair said: "My greatest anxiety is for bondholders, lest they become panicky and sacrifice their holdings without cause. The great majority of bonds sold by the Adair company throughout the country are perfectly good, regardless of whether the guarantee of the company ever adds anything to their value."

Claims Filed.
The creditors filed claims against the Adair Realty and Trust company, aggregating $915.45 and listed as follows: H. E. Hayek, note due $15.43; H. A. Rawlins, of DeKalb county, account $200, and W. G. Carpenter, account $200. The firm of Bryan & Middlebrooks filed the petitions.

The petition against Adair & Senter was filed by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, the Otis Elevator company and the Southeastern Electric company, with three claims totaling $23,221.18. In the petition, the creditors allege that Adair & Senter committed an act of bankruptcy about December 1, 1925, by transferring to the Adair Realty & Trust Co. some property valued between $50,000 and $100,000, thereby establishing the trust company as a preferred creditor of approximately $5,000, and that Power had previously acknowledged "a shortage" to one of the auditors.

Power, who was city clerk for about 20 years, is about 45 years old, is married but has no children. A well-known and popular here, always taking an active interest in civic affairs, and the court action came as a surprise.

Discredits Plot Theory,

Pushing Investigation.

Detroit, March 31.—(AP)—Bullets burrowing into optimism continued from Henry Ford's bedside tonight while varying reports persisted as to the manner of the accident which last Sunday night sent him careening in a Ford coupe down the embankment of the upfitted roadway of Michigan avenue just at the eastern end of a bridge over the River Rouge.

"The patient had a fairly good day," read the last bulletin late today by Dr. R. D. McClure, surgeon-in-chief of the Henry Ford hospital. "Progress continued favorable."

An earlier bulletin remarked that there had been no adverse development in the automobile manufacturer's condition and that none was expected.

Deny Murder Attempt.
The first authentic statement from anyone of the vast Ford organization today was a disclaimer of belief that a deliberate attempt to kill the manufacturer had been made.

It came from Harry H. Bennett, chief of the Ford investigators, and was to the effect that he was satisfied that Ford's light car was side swiped by a "bit and run" motorist driving with an open arm about a girl or slightly in his cups.

There remained undenied, however, the original statements last night from a source close to Mr. Ford that the accident was accepted as a deliberate attempt at assassination and a second statement by a Ford spokesman that a great many men were investigating along numerous lines, and that it was believed that the automobile which catapulted Mr. Ford over the embankment was a "bit and run" car.

In addition there were reports that the Ford investigators were comparing Detroit for a damaged automobile of a certain type.

The official investigation launched has been completed by the Dearborn branch of the Ford organization.

Thousands Expected To Witness
Gorgeous Spectacle at Cornelia Apple Pageant.

BY RALPH T. JONES.
Pastel shades of pink, swaying clouds of white, daintiest beauty from the palette of the Great Painter, spread like a cloak of fairy loveliness over north Georgia, will be glorified tonight and next week in the first annual Apple Blossom festival, to be staged at the city of Cornelia.

It is directed by the Consolidated Apple Growers exchange, an organization embracing practically all of the leading orchardists of Georgia's world famed apple growing section, of which J. Frank Beck is president.

Tonight, in the Cornelia auditorium, the opening program of the great celebration, man's humble tribute to the beauty which the God of nature sends in blossoming apple trees, will be staged. A great aggregation of players who have been training for weeks under the direction of Miss Selma Lewis will present a pageant said to be one of the most elaborate and artistic creations of its kind ever offered in this section.

Next Tuesday, which has been selected as the day on which the blossoms will be in full, the pageant will be carried to the streets.

SENATOR NORRIS

The Nebraska senator, who has held public office for the last 30 years, declared he chose to round out his life in the service of his state and plans to announce as a candidate for governor when his senatorial term ends in March, 1931.

He disclosed today that he had planned to leave the senate in 1924 but had changed his mind at the insistence of friends that he serve another term. He said that he hoped, if elected governor, to make the government of his state a model for others.

BY RANDALL GOLDB.

Pekin, April 1.—(Friday)—2:30 A. M.—Fear that the rising tide of anti-foreign feeling will burst in Pekin has caused evacuation of 200 foreign women and children, most of them members of American families, from the Pekin Union Medical college of the Rockefeller foundation.

A report by the presidents of the Pekin universities to the chief of the Pekin police warned that 10,000 students in these schools are members of the Kuomintang, or nationalist peoples' party, the organ of the victorious Cantonese government.

The Pekin Union Medical college, a part of the Rockefeller foundation which represents one of the greatest expenditures of foreign money in the Far East, is in the center of the city and fear that it might be the target of an attack in case a demonstration began caused the evacuation.

Unrest of foreigners in Pekin, Tientsin, Chefoo and other places in south China has grown since word of increasing anti-foreign sentiment in south China has reached these places.

Tientsin, with its thousands of American, British, Japanese and other military guardsmen, Pekin with its legion guard, and the other places in this section were unable to hold out, once an organized anti-foreign outbreak occurred, it is believed.

Sympathy for the nationalist movement in south China has been exhibited by its followers here on various occasions. Particularly in the fight for abolition of unequal treaties with the powers, the sentiment in north China agreed with that of Canton. Several weeks ago professors of the national universities here called for such an outbreak.

Presumably the flyers must have encountered heavy winds, for the course on which they started was laid 25 degrees west of north, and they intended to fly still farther west after following this route for 600 miles.

Although Wilkins and Eielson are 100 miles out on the Arctic ice, at the very limit of exploration, if not beyond it, they are not necessarily in pressing danger. Wilkins is an experienced explorer and was equipped for just such an emergency.

At this season he will find solid ice, interrupted only by water ledges torn out by winds and currents, to the Alaskan coast. These ledges, when open explosively under the stresses of the Arctic ice sheet; the tremendous upheavals of ice ridges which occur in the same manner and for the same reason, and the intense Arctic cold and blizzards constitute the chief dangers of the explorers.

Mableton Man and Atlanta

Wood on April 9.

Marietta, Ga., March 31.—Judge John S. Wood, of the Blue Ridge Circuit today cited J. A. Cochran, of Mableton and G. Hall Taylor, Atlanta attorney, to appear before him April 9 to answer contempt of court proceedings brought as a result of a petition filed with Governor Walker by Taylor in behalf of Cochran in which the removal of Sheriff Tom Sanders and County Policeman J. E. Fowler and "Dock" Williams was asked.

The removal of the officers is sought on the charge that they "brutally attacked" Cochran while placing him under arrest on the night of March 14.

The contempt proceedings came as a result of charges made in the petition by Cochran and Taylor in connection with the alleged refusal of the grand jury to investigate the case.

Judge Wood's citation order in part said:

"The said article (petition) is calculated to impede and embarrass the administration of law and justice, arouse and inflame public anger, incite public prejudice against said court in the performance of its functions and take away and destroy the

All Fools' Day Brings
Usual Range of Pranks

KEEP FINGERS CROSSED WARNING BROADCAST

BY PAUL STEVENSON.
Fools and their follies, quips, cracks, fol-de-rol and waggery will mingle in a hodge-podge of buffoonery in Atlanta today as All Fools day slips up another notch on the calendar and the Fool Killer roams at large in the land.

Fair warning, gentlemen—likewise ladies. Beware ye today of picking up the seemingly innocent purse from the sidewalks—there's a string to that thing somewhere. Refrain from kicking the old hat into the gutter lest it contain a brick in its innards.

In these days of altruism when one-half of the world is trying to reform the other half, it is a good time for an exposure of some April Fool tricks to be made in advance.

With the help of this story you may guide your actions today and by night can look the fool killer in the face and swear that you haven't fallen for a single gag during the day.

First, you must learn the telephone number of Grant park zoo. It is Main 5580, so if you have this call waiting for this morning when you arrive at the office just disregard it. If they tell you to call "Mr. Lyon, that's his number, too."

Next, you must pay no attention to street urchins. If one runs up to you and shouts "Oh, Mister, look at the balloon," just give the little chaps a benign look, slip him a nickel and tell the lad you've been April Fooled before. This will frustrate the little fellow at the beginning of a career of misrepresentation which might eventually lead him to a sad job as a press agent.

Then you must watch your food closely today. Cotton has been placed in biscuit and succulent ham has been fried in axle grease on this day of Cap and Bells.

Flappers should examine gift boxes of candy closely lest they contain pepper. Indeed, red pepper in tins ago, has been placed on lip sticks, so girls beware of accepting lip sticks from strangers.

These hints should serve as a protection on April Fool's day, but like all other acts of altruism they probably won't be appreciated.

In city schools the boys and girls have conspiracies hatched for teachers. In colleges of the city students are preparing to circumvent the ravages of All Fools day as much as possible with the exception of the freshmen.

Every day is All Fools day to a freshman.

Washington, March 31.—(United News).—Joint demands for indemnities for the Nanking rioting and future protection for foreigners in China may be made to the Cantonese government by America, Great Britain and Japan, it was learned here today.

American Minister MacMurray is reported as acting with the British and Japanese envoys.

The state department declined to confirm the report or comment upon it.

Some dissatisfaction has been expressed, according to Shanghai reports, on alleged lack of cooperation by America with Great Britain. The state department is said to have come in for its share of criticism. However, Secretary Kellogg stated he had seen no evidence of such dissatisfaction.

Long Message Received.
A long message received by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur from Admiral Williams, commander of the American naval forces in China, is believed to bear on this topic, although the department refused to reveal its contents.

The message was received early today and its publication was withheld upon direct orders from Secretary Wilbur.

The state department is inclined to regard criticism of lack of cooperation and foreign naval commanders at Shanghai and on the Yangtze river have been cooperating whenever necessary and Minister MacMurray is conferring daily in Pekin with the British and Japanese representatives.

Some opposition against joint action between this country and Britain and Japan has developed in President Coolidge's cabinet which might lead to a separate communication being sent to the Cantonese government by America.

Consulate Moved.
The American consulate at Chungking has been moved to the deck of a gunboat, Consul Walter A. Adams reported to the state department.

"Anti-foreign agitation has commenced at Chungking," Adams stated, "although the attitude of the authorities is satisfactory, their control is in-

Grand Opera 'Scalper' Scare

STRANGER EXPLAINS BIG PURCHASE OF TICKETS

Dispelled in Sale of Seats

A rumor that a group of ticket speculators were planning to buy up all the remaining choice seats for Atlanta's seventeenth annual season of grand opera, coupled with the purchase of a block of 20 pairs of seats by a single individual, had officials of the Atlanta Music Festival in considerable of a quandary Thursday afternoon until the mystery was explained fully.

Season ticket sales close Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock and there had been a rumor current throughout the past two days that a group of speculators were planning to obtain control of all remaining choice seats and officials of the association had been on their guard in selling tickets in large blocks.

Then during the early part of the afternoon, a stranger walked up to the boxoffice and demanded 20 pairs of seats and "all of them together as near the front as possible."

The ticket seller stalled a little while, not knowing exactly what to do, or if this man was the forerunner of the group of speculators. He called Howard Candler, in charge of the association's office, and sought advice. Mr. Candler also hesitated. Finally he instructed the ticket seller to let the man have them, and try and determine where the man lived and what he wanted with that many tickets all together.

Great Relief Felt.

"Why, sure, I'll tell you what I want with them," the purchaser replied in answer to a timid question from the seller. "You see I live in a south Georgia city and there are 20 of us there who have been intending to visit grand opera for the past several years. We never got around to it, for one reason or another, so this year we decided to have a regular opera feast and attend every last one of them. We are bringing our wives, so that's why we need 20 pairs of seats and naturally we want to be together."

The ticket seller breathed a sigh of relief. Mr. Candler did likewise, and also his pleasure at that splendid support of grand opera as evidenced by this purchase of tickets.

Sell-Out Predicted.

"I'm glad that it wasn't a speculator," said Mr. Candler, "but at that Atlanta patrons, as well as those who live out of the city, should take advantage of the season seat sale and get their tickets at once. The sale of boxes already has surpassed the sale of last year at the same time, and indications are that there won't be a box seat for sale when the season ticket sale ends Saturday night. Many of the requests for boxes for the season have been secured from out of town patrons, something very unusual in advance sales heretofore. The season ticket sale also is ahead of what it was for the same time last year, and all indications are that this season will surpass last year's, which was the most successful in our history."

MASONS BROADCAST PROGRAM TONIGHT FROM BILTMORE

A musical program sponsored by the Atlanta Masonic club will be given tonight between 9 and 10 o'clock over WSB at the Biltmore hotel.

Scurluck; reading, Ford Clark; accordion and harmonica duet, Joe Reed and Forrest Traylor; baritone and singing specialty, by Chester Kitchens and other numbers.

GEORGETOWN WINS INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE ON CANAL

Washington, D. C., March 31.—(Special.)—Georgetown university debaters engaging in their first intercollegiate contest of the season with a team from Loyola college, of Baltimore, received a favorable decision from the judges.

They successfully opposed the question, "Resolved: That the St. Lawrence project for a Great Lake-ocean ship canal should be adopted rather than the New York state route."

Georgetown's team was composed of Charles P. Maloney, James J. Quinn, Joseph A. Mullarky and William Walker, alternate.

ORATORY CHAMP FROM AUGUSTA

Joseph A. Mullarky, of Augusta, Ga., last year won the prize in the national oratorical contest, sponsored by the American Bar association. He won the prize for this year, which comprised several southern states.

Mullarky won the Georgia state prize over a large field of contestants and was awarded the national contest by The Constitution, sponsor of the annual Georgia state oratorical championship.

HIKERS PLAN REGULAR WEEKLY TRIP SUNDAY

The Atlanta Tramp and Trail club, a hiking organization conducted under auspices of the local Y. W. C. A., with Mrs. Elizabeth Reamer in charge, will hold its weekly hike Sunday afternoon at 2:25 o'clock. Members and friends will meet at Pryor and Alabama streets.

The hike will be about five miles through Decatur woods, led by Miss May Brooks and Miss Portia Atkins.

Tenth Ward Candidates Announce For Reelection

CHARLES M. FORD.

Coinciding with setting of entrance fees by the city democratic subcommittee, both candidates whose terms expire in the tenth ward formally entered the race by paying up and making formal announcement for reelection, subject to the primary of May 25.

Alderman Charles M. Ford and Councilman T. Frank Callaway, both of the tenth and two of the most popular and aggressive members of the present city council, entered the lists formally and thus far are without opposition. Their friends Wednesday pointed to their records in an effort to show that they are entitled to reelection and predicted that neither would have opposition.

Mr. Ford made his announcement in accordance with an agreement made at a political rally Saturday night, at which a petition bearing the names of 723 registered voters of the tenth asked him to make the race for a full term. The aldermanic candidate was selected about two years ago to fill an unexpected term, and took an aggressive part in city-wide legislation from the outset.

He is author of a proposal for a $1,500,000 bond issue to reconstruct and relocate Battle Hill sanitarium, to purchase a tract for a city-owned cemetery and to establish a pay ward at Grady hospital. In entering for reelection he declared he is prompted much by a desire to assist in pushing through these improvements which he has begun and by a wish to prosecute vigorously the widening of Whitehall street and the extension of Broad. He is chairman of a special councilmanic committee appointed to do this.

In accepting the petition Mr. Ford declared: "This means more to me than being alderman, because those who signed it—my neighbors, who know me better than any other people in the world—have thus sanctioned my official actions."

Mr. Ford is a member of several important standing committees of general council and in addition to his political activities is a deacon in the Capital View Baptist church. He also is a member of the American Business Men's club, the Masons and several other civic and fraternal organizations.

He formerly was a city salesman, but has been identified with Turman-Brown company for about five years. Mr. Callaway is the second oldest member of general council in point of continuous service, being second only to Alderman J. Allen Couch, of the fifth, who also is up for reelection this year. He has been a member of the city's governing body for the past eight years and is seeking his fifth consecutive term.

Among other things Mr. Callaway was chairman of the Stewart and Dill avenues paving projects, and has been identified closely with progressive legislative matters during his tenure of office.

He also is intensely interested in the Whitehall and Broad streets projects and declared he wished to assist in completing the work which Mr. Ford and W. Garland Cooper, the third member of the tenth ward delegation, have begun.

Mr. Callaway also is prominently connected in fraternal and church circles. He has been connected with the Southern railway mechanical department for the past two score years.

nan, presided over the former, while Alderman Claude Ashby, chairman, presided over the latter.

WOMAN IS INJURED WHEN HIT BY TRUCK

Mrs. R. W. Jordan, of 833 Cherokee avenue, was injured Thursday night when she was struck down by a light truck at the intersection of Peachtree and Pryor streets. Mrs. Jordan was given first aid treatment in an office in the Grand Theater building, following which she was carried to the hospital.

Patrolman H. E. Vaughan, who investigated the accident, made a charge of reckless driving against the operator of the truck, Charles E. Clark, a negro, whose address was not learned.

SECOND BAPTIST WOMEN WILL MEET

The Business Women's league of the Second Baptist church will have for the speaker at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon Stiles Hopkins, attorney and Bible scholar.

Circle F. Miss Mary Ella Yancey, chairman, and Miss Pearl Moore, co-chairman, will be in charge of the meeting, which will be held in the Sunday school auditorium of the church. Mrs. Frederic J. Paxon is president.

TO RENEW CHARTER FIGHT IN COUNCIL

Two important matters are slated to be considered Monday by city council, it was learned Thursday. One, a proposal to place the charter election on the primary ballot May 25 is expected to precipitate another fight, between the factions for and against the proposed new charter.

The other will be a favorable recommendation of the finance and water committees of city council on a proposal of Councilman Jack Savage to increase the number of cubic feet of water supplied to out of city users from 500 to 800. It is expected that this will meet no opposition. The finance committee Thursday approved the paper, and transacted other routine business.

Horace Russell at the last meeting of city council waged a lone fight to place the charter election on the primary ballot, but members of that body declined, saying it would be unfair to force candidates in the primary to bear the expense of an election which, if carried, would abolish the very jobs they were seeking. Other objections also were raised.

Mrs. R. L. Turman, president of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, Thursday continued her reply to the thrusts of Alderman William R. Hartfield, of the third, at the proposed new charter. Wednesday she secured Mr. Hartfield at a meeting of the ward officers' council of the league.

Mr. Russell stated Thursday that if council declines a second time to place the charter on the primary ballot, proponents of the city manager plan of government for Atlanta will file a initiative petition signed last fall by 15 per cent. of the registered voters asking the election. If the petition is filed, it will be mandatory on council to call an election within 30 days provided a check of the names on the list discloses the fact that there are enough to comply with the law which requires 10 per cent. of the registered voters of the city.

400 VETERANS' NAMES YET TO BE ENROLLED

Approximately 400 Confederate veterans in Fulton county remain to be enrolled in the special Gold Star section of the book of memory, according to officials of the Stone Mountain Memorial association.

Half of the 800 veterans in the county have been enrolled, it was stated, and the remaining number will have to be accounted for by noon Saturday if previous plans of organization and societies interested in the enrollment are to be carried out; it was said. Early arrangements had looked to the subscription of amounts sufficient to enroll the entire number by the first of April, the date set to end the enrollment prior to the opening of the Confederate reunion in Tampa, Fla., April 5, officials said.

Cities and towns in the southern states who have completed enrollment of entire rosters of veterans include Birmingham, Ala., Little Rock, Ark., Columbia, S. C., Duncan, Okla., and many others, it was said.

Private subscription has enrolled many veterans in the county, and the Fulton chapter, F. D. C. Old Guards and the Ladies Memorial association, have subscribed amounts for listing of several large bodies.

Clubs Are Interested.

Each veteran whose name is recorded upon the living veterans roll receives a gold medal.

Mrs. L. D. T. Quinby, Fulton county chairman for enrollment of veterans, said Mrs. Quinby, "Enrollments are coming in every day, but I want to urge everyone to take a hand and put Atlanta and Fulton county across in this work."

A subscription of $5.00 will enroll the name of one veteran.

48 VETERANS GET MEMORIAL MEDALS.

About 68 Confederate veterans at the Atlanta Soldiers' Home will be decorated with the gold star memorial medal this afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Old Guards and the Fulton chapter, F. D. C. Old Guards.

T. Quinby, Fulton county chairman for the enrollment of Confederate soldiers in the living veterans roll, medals will be presented to veterans by W. M. Camp, commander of Old Guards, and Mrs. C. L. Anderson, president of Fulton chapter.

Members of the two organizations presenting medals have been requested to be present at the presentation, Mrs. Quinby said.

L. D. Grace, 113 years' old, oldest living Confederate veteran, has been decorated by W. Bayne Gibson, member of the John B. Gordon Camp, Sons of Veterans, and will receive his medal together with other inmates of the Soldiers' Home.

Major W. E. McAllister, commandant of the home, has been decorated by Dr. Joe Jacobs, and will be presented with his gold medal at the ceremonies.

DONALDSON CASE ARRESTS EXPECTED

With Solicitor General John A. Boykin busily engaged at his Myrtle street residence weaving a network of evidence with which he is confident he will catch members of Atlanta's liquor and gambling syndicates in the slaying of Bert Donaldson and result in convictions, aides of the solicitor Thursday were tracing down tips which may result in the early arrest of three fugitives under indictment for the murder.

Charles H. Fitchett, held in the Hamilton county jail in Chattanooga on a charge of passing a worthless check and whose confession to the slaying resulted in the indictment in Fulton superior court of seven other persons, was slated to stand trial Thursday in Chattanooga on the bad check charge, but the case was postponed at the request of Solicitor Boykin, who stated in a letter that he wanted the trial postponed until he had the opportunity to try a "certain other case" in Atlanta on April 1.

No intimation was given by the solicitor regarding the "certain other case," but it is known that no defendant in the murder indictment is expected to be placed on trial during the ensuing two weeks. There is yet a large amount of work to be done in assembling the evidence gathered in connection with the investigation of the slaying of Donaldson, attaches in the solicitor's office state, and no intimation of when the cases will come up for trial has been given.

Ralph B. Lovett, arrested last Saturday in Lake Village, Ark., as a suspect in the Donaldson case, is at liberty in $10,000 bail pending extradition hearing in Arkansas on April 5. Lovett was named jointly in the indictment charging murder with Fitchett, Jack Lance, Ike Sneed and Elm King, held in Fulton tower here; Abe Nissenbaum, Ed Lee and Whitey Jones, who are fugitives.

ATLANTA GIRL WINS PLAY-WRITING PRIZES

Miss Georgia Pepper, of the Atlanta treasury department of the Georgia Power company, was advised late Thursday afternoon that her play, "It Can Happen," had been awarded the grand prize over all plays submitted in the state contest and the state prize winners were sent in for competition for the divisional prize, which Miss Pepper's play won.

Miss Pepper's play also won the prize for plays submitted by members of the women's committee of the Georgia Power company, and when submitted in the state contest was awarded first prize.

The state prize is a trip to the division convention of the N. E. L. A. at Memphis, April 16. As winner of first prize in the southeastern division, Miss Pepper will be sent to the national convention of women's committees of the N. E. L. A. to be held in Atlantic City late in May.

ASTRONOMICAL BODY WILL MEET SATURDAY

The April meeting of the Atlanta Astronomical society will be held at the Kimball House Saturday night at 7 o'clock. Supper will be served in the banquet hall.

116 Distilleries Uncovered by Dry Agents in March

Reports of the Atlanta prohibition office, under W. T. Day, deputy administrator for Georgia, for March are expected to show an extra active month on the part of agents, it was said Thursday. The reports will be made public today.

Up to Thursday afternoon, a total of 116 distilleries had been uncovered during March by federal agents, with the result that 36 worms, 1,525 gallons of whisky, 180,650 gallons of still beer, 1,453 fermenters, valued at close to $40,000, was destroyed.

Sixteen automobiles, valued at approximately $3,000, were confiscated during the month. Five arrests were made and 76 prosecutions were recommended to the district attorney and state courts.

EXTRADITION DENIED FOR FLORIDA WOMAN

Extradition papers issued in Florida seeking the return to that state of Mrs. J. B. West, now in Atlanta, on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses were not honored Thursday following a hearing in the case held by John Wilson, executive secretary, in the office of Governor Clifford Walker. Secretary Wilson declined to honor the extradition on the ground that the papers were not made out in the proper form and on the additional ground that the complainants failed to make out a case against Mrs. West.

The charge grew out of the sale of an automobile by Mrs. West in Columbia county, Florida.

At a second extradition hearing Secretary Wilson granted papers for the return to Duval county, Florida, of H. B. Ferrell, charged with illegally removing an automobile from Florida.

Atlanta will be well represented on the program of the annual meeting of the Georgia Library association, in Savannah, April 7-9, according to Miss Beverly Whetstone, secretary, who is to have charge of the round table at the first session. She also will direct a playlet, "Why Not," demonstrating Georgia's library work on the program.

Miss Margaret Jensen will have charge of the college and reference section, which is to have two sessions. She also will appear on the program.

Miss Mary Frances Cox, children's librarian of the Atlanta Carnegie library, is arranging the program for the children's section.

The city librarian, Miss Tommie Dora Barker, appears on the program twice, speaking Thursday morning on the subject, "Negro Library Service as Offered by the Atlanta Carnegie Library," and on Friday discussing "Methods for Encouraging Adult Education Through the Library."

Miss Ruth Blair, state historian, will recount some of her experience in bringing to light some of the "Romance of Georgia History."

Miss Ella Mae Thornton, state librarian, will tell of progress on the "Biography of Georgia Authors," which is being compiled under her supervision, and which will be the first comprehensive list published.

On Friday night librarians will enjoy a seafood dinner at Ransom's lodge and later will hear reviews on recent books. One of these book talks will be given by Miss Fannie Hinton, reference librarian of the Atlanta Carnegie library.

BEAVERS ASSIGNS SPECIAL OFFICERS AT FIRE HOUSES

Following authorization of police committee of city council to place city policemen at various fire engine houses in the city, in order to curb crime, especially on the night watches, Chief of Police James L. Beavers spent a large part of Thursday working out details of the new plan.

A detachment of police was divided into pairs late Thursday afternoon and assigned for the first time to this work, the first detachment to be reviewed by another crew at midnight regularly, according to Chief Beavers.

Just which of the engine houses will be used in the new plan to curb crime was not divulged by Chief Beavers.

Under the plan worked out, all calls to police station, telling of holdups or burglaries, will be switched instantly to the nearest engine house, so that every section of the city can be easily reached in a moment's notice, it was stated.

MEMORIAL GARDEN AT FT. McPHERSON NEAR COMPLETION

A Fort McPherson memorial rose garden to beautify grounds of the government reservation and especially the grounds surrounding the Fort McPherson hospital will be completed at an early date, according to officials in charge of the movement.

Already many Atlantans have given rose bushes and evergreens to the project, and those plants have been placed on the grounds with suitable tablets of the names of those giving them and the person for whom they were given. Others have signified their intention of making gifts to the movement in the near future.

The work is under direction of Mrs. K. L. Pepper and John H. Hall, chaplain at Fort McPherson.

BIG WELCOME PLANNED FOR NEW PASTOR HERE

Peachtree Road Presbyterian church will hold a special service on Sunday afternoon, April 3, in welcome to its new pastor, the Rev. R. G. Hershey, who recently accepted the call to this pastorate, succeeding the Rev. F. D. Stevenson.

The service, which will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, will be conducted by Elder Dr. G. F. Nicolassen. Participating in the program of welcome on the part of Atlanta's churches will be, Dr. Weston Bruner, pastor of Buckhead Baptist church; Dr. T. H. Spole Lyons, pastor of First Presbyterian church, and Senator Hoke Smith.

Dr. Hershey comes to Atlanta from a pastorate of nine years with the Woodlawn Presbyterian church of Birmingham. He is supported in his work by Mrs. Hershey who formerly was associated as a singer with the Billy Sunday evangelistic choir.

In addition to his service as pastor of one of Birmingham's most prominent churches, Dr. Hershey was vice president of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Kiwanis club and chaplain of the Alabama Industrial School for Boys.

He already has aligned himself with the Christian council in its interdenominational work in Atlanta and will speak at the concluding service of a series to be held in the Peachtree Arcade under auspices of the council, beginning April 11 and continuing through Easter Sunday.

Delegates from cities and towns located on the Dixie highway between Atlanta and Perry, Ga., will meet in Griffin Friday to form final plans for operating a motorcade over this stretch of road from Perry to Atlanta April 25. The trip will be made under auspices of the Association of County Commissioners of Georgia.

Representatives of the Atlanta convention bureau, the Fulton county commission, Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and other organizations will go to Griffin Friday to attend the meeting. The motorcade will be held to celebrate the completion of the long stretch of paved highway in Georgia, which extends from Atlanta to Perry.

Plans for the coming Georgia state meeting of Old Fellows at Griffin, Ga., May 25-26, were discussed at the session here. D. L. Nichols was in charge of local arrangements.

ODD FELLOWS CLOSE REGIONAL CONFERENCE

More than 700 members of subordinate lodges, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, from a radius of 50 miles around Atlanta, met Thursday night at the Ansley hotel for the closing session of a one-day regional conference here.

The session opened with a meeting of the executive committee, followed by a business conference and initiation ceremonies at which the Piedmont Lodge No. 190 conferred initiation degrees on more than 60 candidates. Three successive degrees were then conferred on the candidates by the Fulton Lodge No. 32, the Dixie Lodge No. 104 and the Barnes Lodge No. 55.

Among the grand lodge officers who attended the meeting were, J. E. Bodenhorn, of Decatur, grand treasurer for Georgia; T. H. Robertson, of Gainesville, grand treasurer; B. M. Collins, of Fairburn, grand conductor, and Paul L. Lindsey and D. L. Nichols, both of Atlanta, grand representatives.

LAST RITES HELD FOR B. F. PIM

Funeral services for Benjamin F. Pim, 82, Atlanta moving contractor, who died at his home, 636 Gillette street, Monday night, were held Thursday morning from the Stewart Avenue Methodist church. Interment was in the National cemetery at Marietta. Members of the G. A. R., of which he was commander, had charge of the services at the graveside.

A native of Ohio, Mr. Pim came to this city about 50 years ago and was connected with the East Tennessee railroad for many years. That company has since been changed into the Southern railroad.

He was a steward and one of the trustees of the Stewart Avenue Methodist church and for many years was one of the Sunday school teachers of that organization.

Mr. Pim is survived by his wife, a son, Rev. Frank Pim, of Nashville, Tenn.; two daughters, Mrs. Celia Northington, of Dallas, Texas, and Mrs. W. P. Shannon, of Atlanta; a niece, Mrs. C. N. Alter, of Alliance, Ohio; several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Governor's Aid Sought To Find Missing Girls

Aid of Governor Clifford Walker in solving the reported kidnapping of two girls, Maryell Thompson and Marie Dickens, at Porterdale, Ga., March 14, was asked in a letter Thursday from Nouri H. Thompson, father of one of the girls.

The letter to the governor said the girls disappeared the night of March 14, after a day's work in a cotton mill. Neither girl took with her a supply of clothing and the father fears they have been killed, he told the governor. Maryell, 14, was engaged to be married, the father said, explaining that the girl's fiancé has written since her disappearance. She has blue eyes, fair skin, bobbed auburn hair and weighs 125 pounds. Marie is red-haired and crippled in one foot, the letter said. Both girls left in their work clothes and neither wore a hat. Mrs. Dickens' parents live at Augusta. Mr. Thompson said. The Thompsons moved to Porterdale recently from Winder.

The governor advised Mr. Thompson that no funds were available for the hire of detectives in the case.

Statham To Dedicate New High School Plant Today With Exercises

Statham, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Exercises marking the sealing of the cornerstone will feature the dedication here Friday of the new Statham high school building which has just been completed. Rev. Charles L. Bass, of Atlanta, representing the Masons, will seal the cornerstone.

Dr. Fort E. Land, Dr. A. E. Pound and Professor J. O. Martin, of the state department of education; Dr. Joseph S. Stewart, representing the Georgia high schools; Professor P. F. Brown, of the State Normal college, Athens, are among those expected to make addresses.

The new school building is valued at $40,000. A bond issue of $25,000 was voted and this was supplemented by local citizens doing much of the work at a minimum price, coupled with the fact that the local contractor, J. S. Holliday, bought all the material on a close margin.

The building is of brick, contains eight rooms, library, office auditorium that will seat 1,000 and stage. It is one-story with terrace rooms that will be used as a shop for the vocational department. The old building will be used for a science laboratory by the vocational department. The second floor of the old building will be fitted up for a gymnasium.

J. W. Williams, superintendent, and John H. Wright, principal, are assisted by a corps of eight teachers. Four schools are consolidated into the local high school.

Howard Blanchard has the distinction of having passed the state embalming examination and received his license at the age of 15. CHILD RECOVERING AFTER AUTO MISHAP

Ferrell Brannon, 6, of 62 Alamo avenue, was reported to be resting well Thursday at Grady hospital, where he was taken after being struck down by an automobile in his own front yard, according to hospital authorities.

The little boy in company with several others was playing in the front yard of his home when an automobile ran suddenly across the sidewalk and into the yard. He was not badly hurt, doctors stated. The driver of the automobile which struck the boy was not known and hospital attaches were told he was forced off the street by blinding headlights from another car.

Bond Commission Lauds Civil Engineers for Aid In City's Viaducts Plan

Valuable Services Rendered Atlanta in Mapping Project for Lowering Tracks.

Resolutions commending a committee of the local chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers for "valuable" services to Atlanta and the bond commission in assisting in mapping plans which resulted in tentative agreement of railroads to permit lowering of tracks which will be spanned by the proposed Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts were released Thursday for publication.

The committee was composed of C. C. Whitaker, chairman, and Robert C. Loe and Frederick H. McDonald, who are said to have rendered a distinct civic service in ironing out technical difficulties confronting the bond commission. The resolutions which the commission passed follow:

Whereas, the Atlanta bond commission charged with the proper expenditure of $1,000,000 for viaducts over Central avenue and Pryor street, found themselves confronted with technical plans which needed careful engineering analysis, and

Whereas, it was their desire to have these plans analyzed by engineers belonging to a national society and having a national standing and

Whereas, the American Society of Civil Engineers expressed their willingness and did appoint a committee to collaborate with the Atlanta bond commission, and

Whereas, this committee was composed of: C. C. Whitaker, chairman; Robert C. Loe and Frederick H. McDonald, and

Whereas, these men gave untiring service and work, and submitted a report under date of August 25, 1926, and supplemental thereto, under date of September 14, 1926, which were finally accepted and adopted by the board, the bond commission and all parties of interest, as a basis for plans to be drawn, therefore,

It is Resolved, that the bond commission does extend to these three men, and to their local chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, its thanks and appreciation for this invaluable civic service, which was carried forward in an unselfish manner, and with no possible idea of personal gain on the part of the committee.

It is further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be framed and sent to each member of the committee, and be sent to the Georgia chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and that a copy be sent to the daily press for publication.

FULTON COUNTY GRAND JURY HOLDS SPECIAL SESSION

Because of the large number of cases which have been considered during the March term, chief among which were investigations into the murder of Bert Donaldson and a drive against idlers and loiterers, the Fulton county grand jury Thursday deemed it advisable to hold a special session.

While no indictments were returned, attaches of the solicitor's office who served the investigating body said that only "routine matters were taken up in an effort to clear up the dockets and be prepared for the regular session Friday."

As far as could be learned there are no extremely important cases to be considered by the investigating body at its session today, however, there is a possibility that the jury will return several true bills against persons of the city who have no visible means of support.

Several members of the Atlanta police department have been detailed to Solicitor General John A. Boykin in an effort to rid Atlanta of vagrants who earn their livelihood by alleged selling of bootleg liquor, gambling and other forms of vice detrimental to public welfare.

Milton C. Work's Pointer On How To Play Bridge

(Milton C. Work, the international bridge authority, will answer your auction bridge questions. A stamped self-addressed envelope must accompany each request for replies.)

The pointer for today is: With Queen-x in Dummy and Ace-Ten-x in Closed Hand, play small from Dummy.

The idea of playing Queen-x in Dummy on a small card led against No Trump, is so firmly planted in the minds of many that they fail to appreciate that in some cases—and notably in the one covered by the above pointer—it is inadvisable to do so. When the Closed Hand has Ace-Ten-x, the play from Dummy ensures the making of two tricks in the suit; with the Queen played, only one trick may be made. If the Queen be played and it be covered by the King, the Closed Hand probably will take with the Ace, and have left the guarded Ten. That Ten will take a trick if the next lead of that suit be made from the adverse hand on the left; but if it be made from the adverse hand on the right, the Ten probably will be captured. By playing small, two tricks must be made regardless of the location of the adverse King and Jack. If both be in the hand of the leader, the Ten will take the first trick and the Ace a subsequent trick. If both be in the Third Hand, the Ace will take the first trick and the Ten the third. If the lead be from the King, the Third Hand having the Jack, the Ace will take the first trick, and the Ten the third; and if the lead be from the Jack, the Third Hand having the King (as in the hand given yesterday), the Ten will take the first trick and the Ace a subsequent trick. If both be in the Third Hand, the Ace will take the first trick and the Ten the third. If the lead be from the King, the Third Hand having the Jack, the Ace will take the first trick, and the Ten the third; and if the lead be from the Jack, the Third Hand having the King (as in the hand given yesterday), the Ten will take the first trick and the Ace a

Don't Count on Carefulness To Keep You Out of Mishaps

Now it's the maker of a brand of automobiles as thick as fleas on a dog's back who falls victim to the accident wave.

If Henry Ford, with his millions to protect himself and his careful policies of personal and business conduct, can't keep out of accidents, how can you hope to avoid disaster?

Which leads to the reminder that The Constitution offers you the famous $7,500 travel accident policy issued by the North American Life Insurance company, an old and reliable concern which already has paid more than $50,000 on claims of Constitution policy holders. The cost is only $1.25 per year, the fractional part of a penny a day.

The policy provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $7,500 in case of death resulting from certain, specified accidents; heavy cash sums for permanent injuries and $10 weekly indemnity for disability resulting from the accidents enumerated.

A train wreck, a crash of autos, the crushing wheels of a speeding car, a burning building—and you may be a victim of the accident wave today. Against all these emergencies the $7,500 travel accident policy guards you.

MAJOR SEGRAVE TREASURES DIME JOHN D. PRESENTS

Ormond Beach, Fla., March 31.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller drives a golf ball, his favorite athletic endeavor; Major H. O. D. Segrave drives an automobile 207 plus miles per hour. Neither does too well at what the other likes to do best.

Rockefeller was playing golf with General Ames, his 94-year-old link companion, while Major Segrave was making his good record, but he hurried over to the garage right after wards. He wanted to see the Mystery S and congratulate the driver.

"I wish I could drive a golf ball as well as you do your automobile," he smiled as he reached for one of the well-known Rockefeller tokens. "Please accept this, as the humble tribute of my admiration, and another new and shiny dime changed hands."

BLANCHARD FATE RESTS WITH JURY

Appling, Ga., March 31.—(AP)—The fate of L. E. Blanchard, clerk of court of Columbia county, on trial on a murder charge for shooting like Jones, rests with the jury.

The state attacked Blanchard's statement on the witness stand and declared that he shot Jones in "cold blood murder."

Arguments of attorneys consumed practically the entire day, and were begun at the opening of court this morning.

Concluding argument for the defense was made by William M. Howard, and required one hour and fifty minutes. The charge of the presiding judge was short. The arguments set out the shooting was accidental and occurred during a struggle for the pistol which was in Blanchard's possession and which had been drawn in self-defense.

Witnesses testified that Jones weighed 185 or 190 pounds, while Blanchard's weight was placed by the same witness at 120 pounds. Blanchard, a physician testified, had been in ill health, and was in a weakened condition.

The case went to the jury at 4:55 o'clock this afternoon and at 3:20 o'clock tonight, Judge A. L. Franklin adjourned court until tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

COURT IS HANDS OFF IN ACCIDENT

Detroit, March 31.—(United News.) No investigation of Henry Ford's accident will be made by the court where the million dollar libel suit against Ford is now in progress, Judge Fred M. Raymond, presiding in the case, announced Thursday afternoon.

His announcement was official recognition of rumors to the effect that Ford's accident was merely an attempt to avoid appearance at the trial as a witness. Judge Raymond asserted that he had no cause for any investigation into the accident at this time.

Fourth day of Aaron Sapiro's "third degree" by Senator James A. Reed, brought little ammunition to the gray-haired senator, which he might later use in battering down the young Jewish attorney's million dollar libel suit against Ford, because of alleged libelous articles published in Ford's paper, the Dearborn Independent.

Excitement was furnished the few spectators and handful of newspaper men when on several occasions Reed hurled charges at Sapiro that he was not answering his questions, but was giving evasive answers that might prejudice the jury.

"Why—Senator Reed," was Sapiro's cool rejoinder on one occasion. "I am really answering the best I can, and I am trying to help you."

Reed asked the organizers of co-operatives if he had not actually planned world-wide cooperative associations of wheat, apple, cotton and potato growers.

"I would not go so far as to say that I had planned them," admitted Sapiro, "but I had hoped for them."

Most of Thursday's session was a repetition of Wednesday's grilling, with Reed seeking to obtain admissions from Sapiro that the latter had received large fees from the organizations that he had assisted in organizing.

Herbert Straus Presents $1,000 Check To Music Club to Retire Its Deficit

Raymond A. Kline, executive vice president of R. H. Macy & Co., is shown presenting a check for $1,000 from Herbert Straus, of the Macy firm in New York, to Mrs. Cliff C. Hatcher, president of the Atlanta Music Club.

The deficit which the Atlanta Music Club incurred last season in presenting to music-lovers of this city a series of concerts by the leading musicians of the world, was wiped out with a single gracious gesture Thursday afternoon when the club received a check for $1,000, the gift of Herbert N. Straus, secretary-treasurer of R. H. Macy and company, of New York.

The check was presented to Mrs. Cliff C. Hatcher, president of the music club, by Raymond A. Kline, executive vice president of the Macy company in charge of branch stores, in Mr. Kline's office in the new and magnificent Davidson-Paxon company, which is affiliated with Macy's.

The splendid contribution from Mr. Straus, who is known as a patron of worthwhile art and music, was the result of a conversation which Mr. Straus had with Mrs. Hatcher on the occasion of a dinner given by Mr. Kline for visiting members of the Straus family and executives of the Atlanta store incident to its formal opening. Mrs. Hatcher was Mr. Kline's dinner companion, and during the conversation Mrs. Hatcher told him of the work which the music club is doing to improve the artistic tastes of Atlanta.

Mrs. Hatcher expressed deep appreciation of the gift and said it would enable the music club to proceed with its work with new vigor and confidence.

The letter of Mr. Straus to Mrs. Hatcher, dated March 28, read:

three powers are advising with their governments as to the proper action to be taken. The British minister has suggested joint action but thus far the United States and Japan have made no reply to his proposal.

The British attitude has stiffened appreciably following receipt of the official report of F. A. Wallis, vice consul at Nanking.

This report confirms previous advice to the government and declares that foreign eyewitnesses talked with the attackers in the Hunan dialect, thus proving that the latter were Cantonese soldiers enlisted from Hunan province.

Wallis also expresses the belief that the attacks were planned, although he is uncertain as to whether or not they were ordered by high officials of the Cantonese army.

British authorities, in confirming reports that more troops are being sent to the danger zone, point out that the present force in and near Shanghai is inadequate to defend that city.

As for the Nanking incident, he said, if full investigation fixed the responsibility on the nationalists, it would be a serious blow to the nationalists.

Shanghai, March 31.—(P)—Draft of demands on the Chinese nationalists in consequence of the anti-foreign excesses at Nanking are under consideration by the powers, as well as the steps to be taken in the event of their refusal.

Shanghai dispatches say Americans and Britishers there are only two alternatives for the powers—either to withdraw from the Yangtze valley or to take quick, definite action.

Chinese have torn down and destroyed the American flag on the consulate at Chungking, in the middle of Yangtze valley, where anti-Americanism is rife. The American residents have concentrated near the water front and consular officials have moved their headquarters to a gunboat.

Chang Kai-Shek, Cantonese military chief, Thursday called for withdrawal of the foreign troops and warships from Shanghai. The nationalists, he said, could not assume responsibility for the safety of the foreigners in the settlements as long as the present "intolerable condition" prevailed.

work. Informed that the club last season had incurred a deficit of $1,000, the New York cultural leader remarked: "Well, don't worry about that and move on."

The incident was forgotten by Mrs. Hatcher but not by Mr. Straus, for Thursday Mr. Kline received from Mr. Straus a check for $1,000 and a letter to Mrs. Hatcher expressing admiration for the uplifting activities of the music club and asking to be allowed to retire the deficit in its entirety.

When Mr. Kline formally presented the check and the letter to Mrs. Hatcher Thursday he added his praise to the splendid influence which the music club is having in creating here a desire for good music.

"Any organization which seeks to secure a public improvement in things artistic and cultural is working along the lines followed by the Davidson-Paxon company in Atlanta," he told Mrs. Hatcher. "For that reason we feel deeply interested in the mission of your club, and Mr. Straus' gracious act in sending this check reflects the attitude of this entire establishment."

forces, he was prepared to give full satisfaction, including indemnity to the families of the victims."

Chang said six Chinese had been killed and fifteen wounded by the Anglo-American bombardment at Nanking. The majority of the casualties, he claimed, were among civilians.

Chang said he had instructed the Nanking garrison commander to lodge a protest with the British and American naval authorities against "what I consider the unjustified bombardment of the city."

"No notice was given us before the bombardment," he added, "and no time was allowed in which to take measures to protect foreign lives and property. The nationalist military authorities consider the bombardment a great indignity, and our officers and men in Nanking are deeply aroused and incensed."

As foreign refugees continue to find shelter within the barriers of the international settlement and the situation in the native quarter of Shanghai grows more menacing with a new general strike in prospect, the defense force authorities are impressed with the necessity of being fully prepared for all eventualities. Consequently they are steadily reinforcing the defense, and are now engaged in setting up a great barbed wire barrier stretching the length of the Avenue Edward VII.

police force, but tonight a report had not been passed to Joseph O. Castellucci, assistant prosecuting attorney of Wayne county (Detroit) who today requested it from Fred Faustmann, the Dearborn police chief.

Different Accounts. Castellucci, who is the assistant prosecutor in charge of the investigation of automobile accidents, stated that he took the step because of the widely different accounts of the accident which had come under his eye.

Judging from what I have read, and that is my only information, he said, "I do not believe we will find any necessity for starting an investigation, I only wish to assure myself, as is my duty, that there was nothing particularly suspicious about the thing."

Castellucci said that his course of action would depend entirely upon Faustmann's report.

headed back in the direction opposite to that in which he was driving.

At the spot two one-way thoroughfares take care of a very heavy traffic. The west bound is an old paved road, which formerly served for all traffic. That upon which Mr. Ford was driving is a new concrete highway laid down something more than a year ago. A fifty-foot width of ground with interurban electric tracks lies between.

So far as could be learned today Mr. Ford remained braced with splints regarded as necessary because of the injuries to his ribs and back.

The bedside bulletins contained no hint of a recurrence of the slight bladder and lung hemorrhages which developed immediately after the accident, nor was any ill effect from the concussion he suffered remarked upon.

The 64-year-old manufacturer's abstemious life and close regard for his well-being apparently was standing him in good stead in his fight for full recovery.

Never of husky physique he is regarded as an excellent example of the well preserved, wiry, lean type.

She had, however, when she alighted, no intention of entering the shop. It had been merely the first possible stopping place from which to race back, burst in upon Lyman as he was in the very act of stealing the card of "The Wild Dove" from the catalog, and wrest it, by force if necessary, from his hands. For at lunch time his nerve must have failed him and now he had sent her away in order to commit his crime at leisure! Then, as she dismounted from the bus she had glimpsed, shooting toward her, the candid, far-carrying yellow of Lyman's car.

Crouched within the grocery store, Cornelia watched the car whip past. Then she flew out and back along the snowy road, buttoning her little purse bag under her coat.
"O, I've left my purse! I had to come back!" she lied, excitedly, to the old gray spider at the turnstile, who replied, "Shame they made you get out, a day like this!" with as much sympathy as if he had been a human being.

Whatever was being done there was, alas, no need for hurry. But Cornelia's heart ran and she with it; through Mr. Leach's room, through the communicating door, breathless, into Lyman's office. And there, in the depths of the waste basket, were bits of cardboard.

THE WILD DOVE.
So! Here it was!
Whether Lyman had stolen the card while Cornelia was catching the bus or whether he had sent her home from a mere desire to be the last person in his office that day—alone with the body, so to speak, of the crime having been committed, after all, during the lunch hour, plainly he had never really conceived of himself as spied upon. Here he had left the body, only the more damning for being mutilated, on the very scene of the crime!

and some curious little hieroglyphics of Miss Jacobs' cataloging system in an upper corner.

Nor was this indignation all for love of Dulcie. Kneeling in Mr. Hertzog's office, beside Mr. Hertzog's desk, just across the partition from the old scenario department, with the spell of its vanished life returning strongly upon her, the soul of the despoiled, the violated filing cabinet seemed to pulse through her. A sense of deep injustice throbbed and blazed in her imagination as Mr. Hertzog's helpless spirit covered its face as Miss Jacobs' loyal scorn stretched toward her a hot hand of faith and supplication. How could he? Some lines on one of the sheets of typewriting paper that had been staring at Cornelia out of the basket began to separate into words.

"The scenario 'The Wild Dove,' about which you inquire, Dulcie Jayne, was submitted to you for consideration as per your contract."

This episode, beginning and ending with the usual phrases of formality, was addressed to you for consideration as per your contract, and was dated January 4, the day after Sleikh II.

Brilliant Social Events Planned for Opera Week

With quite a number of brilliant social events already arranged, and a number more being planned, indications are that the social aspect of Atlanta's seventeenth annual season of grand opera will exceed in brilliance anything of its kind in past history.

Probably the piece de resistance on the calendar will be the magnificent fete, "A Night in Venice," which will be given on Thursday evening at the Hotel Biltmore. The affair will follow the presentation of Thomas' beautiful opera "Mignon," which by the way will be one of the two new operas to be presented this year, and which also is one of the new operas introduced by the Metropolitan company for this season in New York.

"A Night in Venice" will be given under the auspices of the Atlanta Music Festival association, and will have as guests of honor visiting directors and honorary officers of the association and the Opera club.

An exquisite carnival and water fete, representing a night in the romantic Italian city of Venice, will be enacted in a beautiful and magnificent manner, both inside the hotel and on the beautiful terrace, overlooking the Italian garden at the east entrance of the Biltmore. At the center of the scene will be a large table where the guests of honor and opera stars and officials will be seated, while at smaller tables, gracefully arranged around the center table will be seated groups of prominent members of Atlanta society and out of town guests. The affair promises to exceed in magnificence and splendor "Streets in Madrid," given at the Biltmore last season, which proved to be one of the most spectacular affairs ever given in Atlanta.

Many other social events are being arranged. On Monday evening, following the presentation of Verdi's "La Traviata," officials of the Music Festival association will be hosts to directors, officials and artists of the Metropolitan company at the Capital City club for supper and dancing. The affair will begin at 11 o'clock.

The annual barbecue, which has become as much an institution each season as the presentation of opera itself, will be held on Wednesday afternoon at the Druid Hills Golf club, and much interest centers around plans for this annual event.

Friday evening officials of the Music Festival association will be hosts to the board of governors of the Capital City club, directors, officials and artists of the Metropolitan company for supper and dancing. The evening's event will begin at 11 o'clock, following the presentation of "La Forza del Destino."

Besides these affairs, many private fetes are being arranged, as well as afternoon receptions and teas to visiting officials of the Metropolitan company as well as the many artists.

Art Department To Meet Tuesday.

The art department of the Atlanta Woman's club will meet Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the club house. This meeting will be of interest to a great many. Mrs. Eugene Willingham will be the speaker and will tell some of the things to look for in judging a painting. Her talk will touch on such points as good and bad composition, balance, symmetry, harmony of color, rhythm, what lines mean in a composition. These points will be fully brought out by illustrations from various pictures which Mrs. Willingham will have with her.

Mrs. Willingham, who is a graduate of the Woman's Art school in New York city, has taught drawing and painting. Those who are interested are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. H. G. Gaertner, chairman of art, urges a full attendance at the members of her department.

Decatur Is Selected for 1928 Meeting Place by Clubwomen

By BESSIE S. STAFFORD.
Editor Woman's Department, The Constitution.

Albany, Ga., March 31.—The 1928 convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs will be held next spring in Decatur upon invitation of Mrs. Roy Jones, president of the Decatur Woman's club. Mrs. Robert K. Hambo, chairman of time and place, made the announcement at the afternoon session and reported that Valdosta invites the third biennial council to convene in that city.

The fifth district was again victorious in winning the gavel offered for the largest number of clubs federated during the year with Mrs. Oscar Palmour, of College Park district, president.

The favoring the passage and enforcement of a state law providing for the sound teachers' retirement system in the public schools of the state, patterned after the state of New York with such changes as will make the law more adaptable to Georgia. The resolution recommended that a committee be appointed with authority to draft a bill of this character to be introduced at the next regular session of the general assembly, and strongly recommended that various clubs affiliated with the Georgia federation be urged to use influence towards creating a sentiment in favor of the enactment of such legislation.

The council adopted the plan outlined by the Jacksonville chapter of the sixth district to convert Indian Springs into a state park, thereby preserving its historical value and conserving for future generations its natural beauty and history.

Home Economics Favored.
Another resolution of importance which was passed by the council included the endorsement and fostering of the program of home economics under the Georgia state board for vocational education, and that separate clubs endorse the program, urging individual members to make an effort to bring to the attention of the general assembly the importance of this type of training in the hope of securing a larger state appropriation for the use of the Georgia state board for vocational education in the expense of the program of home economics work, including all day, part-time and evening classes.

The council expressed cordial satisfaction in the organization of groups of young women in cities and towns of Georgia for the avowed purpose of giving encouragement and financial aid to Tallulah Industrial School, Inc., known as "Tallulah Circles," and formed with the approval of trustees of the school, and that separate clubs, with an advisory committee of such proper number as desired by the circle.

The school is to be the sole beneficiary of these circles whose object shall be to help in the education of the underprivileged mountain children of Georgia whose future life progress and well-being depends upon the personal interest of the individual interested in educational and constructive work.

Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the general federation, made a contribution to Tallulah Industrial school at the morning session, the announcement being made by Mrs. A. P. Brantley, state president, at a luncheon given at the Albany Country club.

Mrs. Sherman arrives in Atlanta Friday morning to spend several hours as guest of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs. She has made several inspirational, vital and masterful addresses to Georgia clubwomen, her messages awakening renewed interest in club activities.

"One hundred per cent for Tallulah" is the keynote of this year's work by Georgia clubwomen for the mountain school at Tallulah Falls, Ga. This slogan sets as a standard that every club in the federation shall make some gift each year, whether large or small, for the maintenance of the school for underprivileged mountain children which they own and operate. Mrs.

Cleveland and Thomasville; Annie Mae Branch, donor, Rhododendron club, Atlanta; Anne Graves and Sina Harris White, donor, College Park Woman's club, College Park, Ga.; Mrs. George H. Lanier, donor, Mr. George H. Lanier, West Point; Ella Mitchell memorial, donor, Washington county federation. She also announced the election of three new trustees at the February executive board meeting including Mrs. William S. West, of Valdosta; Mrs. Preston S. Arkwright and Mrs. Willard C. Patterson, of Atlanta. When presented to the council Mrs. West, in acknowledging her acceptance, said: "The trustees announce that the swimming pool at Tallulah Falls has been named the Ida Fitzpatrick pool as a service tribute to Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, vice president of the board of trustees of the school."

Mrs. Howard H. McCall, of Atlanta, in behalf of the trustees told of the midnight rescue staged by the amusement managers Atlanta March 11, 1927, as a benefit for the federation's school in which they were joined by the National Vaudeville Artists, the Atlanta Federation of Musicians, Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture operators. The revue was given at the Atlanta auditorium by all the vaudeville talent in Atlanta that week and with a combined orchestra of 35 musicians, resulting in $4,501 being paid to the Tallulah school.

New Endowment Fund.
Mrs. Willard C. Patterson, of Atlanta, in acknowledging and accepting her election as trustee of the Tallulah school reported on the new endowment fund saying: "The Passie Fenton Otley Endowment fund for Tallulah Falls school was begun in September, 1926, under the chairmanship of Mrs. T. E. Stevens, and continued under Mrs. Bolling Jones. During eight weeks' work, the amount of $30,000 was raised, including a certain number of personal scholarships. At the meeting of February 16, 1927, it was voted to hold the endowment open until it should reach the sum of $30,000 irrespective of all perpetual scholarships—except the one bearing Mrs. Otley's name."

Detailed report to date: insurance policies of $1,000 each, $5,000. Mrs. Price-Smith, Atlanta, Mrs. Willard C. Patterson, Atlanta, Mrs. Thorne Jacobs, Atlanta, Mrs. T. E. Stevens, Atlanta, Mrs. James B. Bachman, Atlanta. Fashion revue, gift of M. Rich & Bros. Co., $3,288. Midnight revue, gift of amusement managers of Atlanta and associates, $4,501. Washington Seminary, gift through Mrs. Green Warren, $472.50. Property gift, Mrs. Kate Green Hess, Atlanta, $200. Cash contributions, $12,231.05—details: Mrs. N. R. Ragsdale, $250; Hon. Hoke Smith, $1,000; Mrs. Kelly Evans, $1,000; Georgia Railway and Power company, $1,000; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ishie Strane and Herbert N. Strane, $500; Frank Hawkins, $500. Total, $22,212.57.

Of this amount given from outside Atlanta, $12,231.05; Atlanta contribution, $22,212.57; perpetual scholarships, $2,000 each (four), $8,000; Passie Fenton Otley, John K. Otley, Atlanta; Harriet Cordelia Dick Inman, Mrs. Morris Brandon, Atlanta; Frances H. Brownell, Mrs. F. E. Brownell, Atlanta; Garner Jones, Mrs. Felton Jones, Rome. Grand total, P. F. O. endowment, $24,212.55.

The broad purpose and significance of Tallulah Industrial school is gleaned in the above reports. Its progressive program has brought the institution before Georgia, who have learned that the Georgia Federation is the only one in existence which owns and maintains a school.

Mrs. A. P. Brantley, of Blackshear, presided over the three sessions, held in the city auditorium, and at her left sat Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation who was an interesting listener.

Rural Woman's Importance.
Speaking of the cooperation of the federation and the rural woman, Mrs.

Wesleyan College Alumnae Meeting.
Of interest was the meeting of the Atlanta Alumnae association held in the palm room of the Georgian Terrace Tuesday afternoon, at which time the special guests were 18 Atlanta students at Wesleyan college, now at home for the spring holidays.

Mrs. Charles Haden, who is a Wesleyan graduate, is president of the association and presided over the meeting.

Wesleyan college, with its historic background, is the alma mater of probably the largest number of graduates of any other women's college in the country. The young speakers brought news fresh from the college life and told of the progress in the buildings in process of construction of Wesleyan. Miss Frances Horner, president of student government this year, and debater in the recent Wesleyan-Emory intercollegiate debate, and Miss Alice Stevens, member of the student government council, spoke on "Student Government."

Miss Katherine Catchings, member of the senior class and voted the daintiest girl in college, interestingly told of the extra curricula activities of the college. Miss Elizabeth Dent told of the work of the Y. W. C. A., and Miss Roberta Quillian, president of the Atlanta Students' Alumnae association, presented the silver cup to the association to be awarded to the unit of the organization making the best year's record.

Love To Hurl Against Athletics at Spiller's Today

Last Year's First Team Sent Here

Hunter, Speed Ball Artist, Opens Against Love; Wheat, Galloway, Barbee and Perkins Included in Lineup.

BY TOM THOMPSON.

Ruel Love will draw the opening mound assignment against the Philadelphia Athletic hangers of 1926, the opposition for Atlanta's Crackers in the first major-minor check dispensary this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Opposing him will be the other extreme, a speed ball artist, in the person of Miles Andrew "Spiky" Hunter, who is neck and neck with Bill Shores in the race for the last permanent berth on the A's pitching staff. Mack is planning to carry nine pitchers this year and he has decided on eight of them. One of the two mentioned boys will be the ninth, and so naturally both are hurling with all their stuff.

Incidentally he will be the first nine-inning catapult yet to toe-in the Spiller mound, all the rest of the boys performing here this year being carried only four or five innings.

Comes From Dallas.

Hunter, hails from the Dallas Steers, the Dixie champions of the Texas league in 1926. Cy Perkins is scheduled to do the opening back-stopping, and Frank Kohlbecker will be the tool man for the Crackers. Zach Wheat, the veteran outfielder of the big top and former manager of Wilbert Robinson's Brooklyn Dodgers, will be in left field. The remainder of the Athletic team performing here is, with an exception or two, the same outfit that carried the Philadelphia flag in the navy. There is Chick Galloway, the brilliant young former Cracker, at short stop. Poole, on the initial sack; Bishop, at the keystone, and Sigafos at the hot corner, complete the infield.

This Sigafos boy is heralded as the sensation of the coming year. He is in the opinion of some of the A's here, the white-haired find of the present season. Mack, however, is ordinarily from the Show Me state, has brilliant hopes for Sigafos.

Barbee, Too.

Barbee, the youngster from the Piedmont league, who clouted a triple with two on to win a game from Cleveland for the A's last year in his first time at bat in the big top, will perform in the right garden. Between Barbee and the average, but able Zach Wheat will be Wilson, Bates will probably relieve Perkins of the catching job at some stage of the game.

So, here is the way they will probably start:

Crackers:
Bishop, 2b. Zoller, lf.
Galloway, ss. Chick, ss.
Wheat, cf. Schweb, 1b.
Sigafos, 3b. Welch, rf.
Barbee, rf. Galloway, 2b.
Wilson, cf. Nichol, 2b.
Perkins, c. Kohlbecker, c.
Hunter, p. Love, p.

One of the principal developments of the day was that Ty Cobb and Eddie Collins will not be in Atlanta for the two-day exhibition series. Cobb and Collins will join the main Athletic squad in Richmond today and will perform in the opening game of the annual Philly-Athletic all Philadelphia series, which opens Saturday.

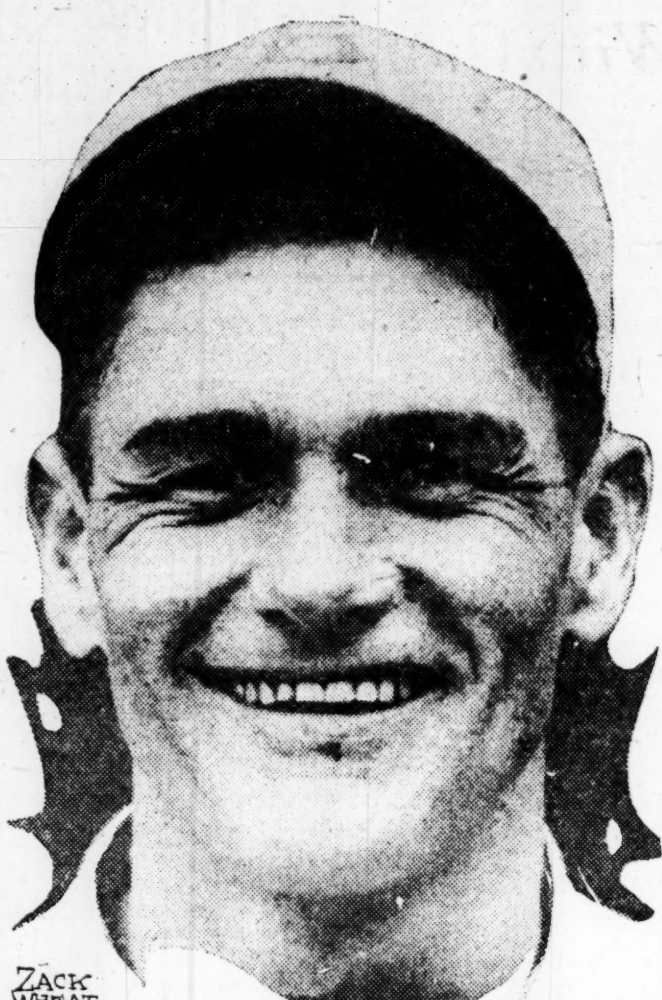

Earl Mack Here.
Earl Mack, the son of the famous Cornelius Mack, is managing the team in Atlanta.

Following the eminent Mr. Love in the box will be Tom Rogers. Between these two hurlers Bert Niehoff, who will play second, is depending on his chances of taking away a game from the Athletics.

Saturday will probably find Ray Francis opening the tilt against the Mackmen, and Bert is likely to push him all the way.

A's Take Workout.
The Philadelphia team arrived in Atlanta Thursday morning, went

THE HOARY BUT HONORABLE ZACH

ZACH WHEAT

This is the somewhat hoary but withal mighty honorable Zach Wheat. He is one of the rings in the three-ring circus that Connie Mack is planning to put on the road in his chase for an American league gonfalon and its attendant fame and currency this year. Wheat will perform in left field for the Athletics against the Crackers at Spiller's field this afternoon in a game that is to begin at 2:30 o'clock.

YOUNGSTERS WHO CHAFE AT BIT SHOULD CONSULT K. M.

BY TOM THOMPSON.

The countless young pastimers who chafe at one time or another against managerial reins that may seem too tight should take a winter course in Judge Landis' scandal school.

If that sounds peculiar, just listen to this: Ty Cobb is free to do as he doggone pleases—particularly as regards his appearance in exhibition games—even though he is sailing under the Jolly Roger of Cornelius Mack in that old man's three-ring circus the bunting of which is likely to become the American league gonfalon.

Of course, just because Mack has granted the greatest ball player a free rein doesn't mean that Cobb is lagging. He isn't. He is playing ball as hard or harder than most of the big top performers. He entered his twenty-third year in organized baseball with the attitude that he was working for Connie Mack and ready to do as his boss bade. A curious situation for the man that managed the Detroit Tigers so long, but, anyway, that is the way the Georgia Peach looked at it.

And the result is the thing that has been expressed, Connie looked the reins on his saddle and gave Ty his head. Connie figured when he took

SEATS ON SALE FOR STECHER-LONDOS BOUT

Jimmy Londos' urgent demand that Joe Stecher's $20,000 diamond-studded belt be on hand when the Greek wrestles the world's champion here next Thursday night has been granted, so Matchmaker Contos declared Thursday.

Stecher never has objected to having his belt lying around handy when he defends his title. Yet the belt is so valuable that it cannot be carried around like a suitcase and has to be zealously guarded. Naturally, Stecher has no desire to bear that expense and the belt is never available unless the matchmakers and promoters care to bear the expense of it being lugged along.

Londos informed Matchmaker Contos that he would not meet Stecher unless the belt was brought here, and Contos, meaning and groaning over the speed with which overhead expenses are piling up, agreed to see to that detail.

Bring Belt.
The belt will be brought here from Stecher's home at Dodge, Neb., and will be displayed prominently somewhere downtown. The belt, studded with diamonds, was presented to Stecher a few years ago when the Nebraska regained the world's Georgia. The presentation was made by the governor of Nebraska.

Contos Thursday declared that he had placed $25,000 worth of seats on Thursday night championship match on sale at Chess' place, the Piedmont Hatters and at the Piedmont hotel cigar corner. The seats will also be available at other downtown points later in the week and it is likely that the box office at the city auditorium will be open the entire day before the bout.

In addition to the 6,250 seats, Contos plans to arrange enough seats on the steps to increase the capacity of the auditorium to 7,000 seats. The seats are well scattered and are available at the same prices that have prevailed at past matches here.

Long-distance telephone conversations with leading wrestlers of the country Wednesday night failed to produce results in plans for preliminary matches. Contos said. He declared that he would resort to the telephone again Thursday night in an effort to arrange the best possible bouts.

It is practically certain that both the champion and the leading contender for his crown will arrive in Atlanta early next week and finish their training for the championship match.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS.

The Terrible Tyrus.

The terrible Tyrus Raymond Cobb may be as great a curse to umpires as Jimmy Walker's curfew is to a night club, but concerning the latest story of Cobb's "baiting" activities, we have the word of an eye-witness that the Peach was not at all to blame in the St. Petersburg squabble with Frank Wilson, National loop mentor.

The witness is Charley Kline, Philadelphia sports writer, and having been on the bench with the players, he was probably in as good a position to hear the details as anyone.

Charley declares that Tyrus did make some remark to Eddie Collins, who was at the plate at the time, which was not entirely complimentary to Umpire Wilson, but that the Georgia Peach was on his way from the field when Wilson declared the game forfeited.

Ty wanted to argue about the matter to begin with but he changed his mind and was on his way to the showers when Brother Kline decided that he had worked enough for one day and halted the performance. They fooled him, however, and played another exhibition game. Cobb, according to Kline, turned from the field but went to the bench to get his rubber shirt. Before he could leave the field Wilson became incensed at the delay and made himself unpopular with the fans by halting the game.

It is possible that Tyrus wanted to save his legs and not run from the presence of a bitter Wilson, but all reports have it that he WAS en route to the showers, which should have satisfied Mr. Wilson, who had the best of the argument from the beginning, anyway.

The story told by Charley Kline gives Ty all the best of it and we are inclined to believe this version because of the fact that Frank Wilson has been noted for his cantankerous methods or the diamond from Key West to Maine and ditto east and west.

Another bit of surprising news comes from the Athletic camp to the effect that the Terrible Ty is saying "yes, sir," and "no, sir," to Cornelius McGillicuddy on all occasions, and is meek as a lamb in training. Sounds funny to anyone who has watched the Peach as player and manager with the Detroit Tigers. Perhaps the fact that Tyrus, for the first time in many years, is not absolutely sure of his position has something to do with this sudden streak of obedience.

A Musical Genius.

It's a grand and glorious feeling to find that one is working right side by side with a musical genius.

Wednesday noon we listened in on a radio in a nearby store for a few minutes and heard a new song entitled "Your Home's in My Heart." It made a hit with us and when they announced the composer we were much surprised and delighted to find that Ralph Jones, of The Constitution, was responsible.

We claim to be no criterion on the worth of music but we liked the piece and did not hesitate to say so. It says it's good and he ought to know, he wrote it, so we find our judgment vindicated.

TECH FROSH PLAY MONROE NINE TODAY ALL OFFICERS REELECTED BY WEST END

Roy Mundorff will swing his Baby Jacket baseball team into action this afternoon on the freshman field against Red Barron's Monroe Aggies. Time will be called at 4 o'clock.

"Red" has an unusually strong team this year, most of last year's team having returned for another season of baseball. Barron had a strong team last year and rated high in the G. I. A. A. This year's aggregation is even stronger, he says, and he wants it known that he is out for the championship.

Little is known of Coach Mundorff's charges other than that he works them hard and often. This is the first game of the season for his team and will enable him to pick out the faults and weak points of the squad.

Several times this season the Baby Jackets have scrimmaged their older brothers and have made a good showing against them each time. Coach Mundorff is developing Hecke into a natural ball player, is strong and can hit well. He should develop into a fine receiver in time.

The game this afternoon will be the first of a two-game series to be played between Monroe and Tech frosh on the freshman field, which is the north end of Grant field.

Jackets Open Series With A. & M. Today

Aggies Bring Strong Team to Face Jackets—Game This Afternoon Begins at 3:30.

BY HOWARD EATON.

Coach Dudy Noble brings his Aggies from Mississippi A. and M. college to face the Yellow Jackets on Tech field this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in the opener of a two-game series. Coach Noble's charges handed the Mercer Bears the short end of the score in both games played in Macon on March 25 and 26. Despite the fact that he has several new members on this year's nine, Noble has a team that will make a strong bid for the conference championship.

ANNUAL TECH CAKE RACE ON SATURDAY

Tech holds its annual cross country race for rats and others Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, starting on Grant field and it will be run over a course of approximately four miles.

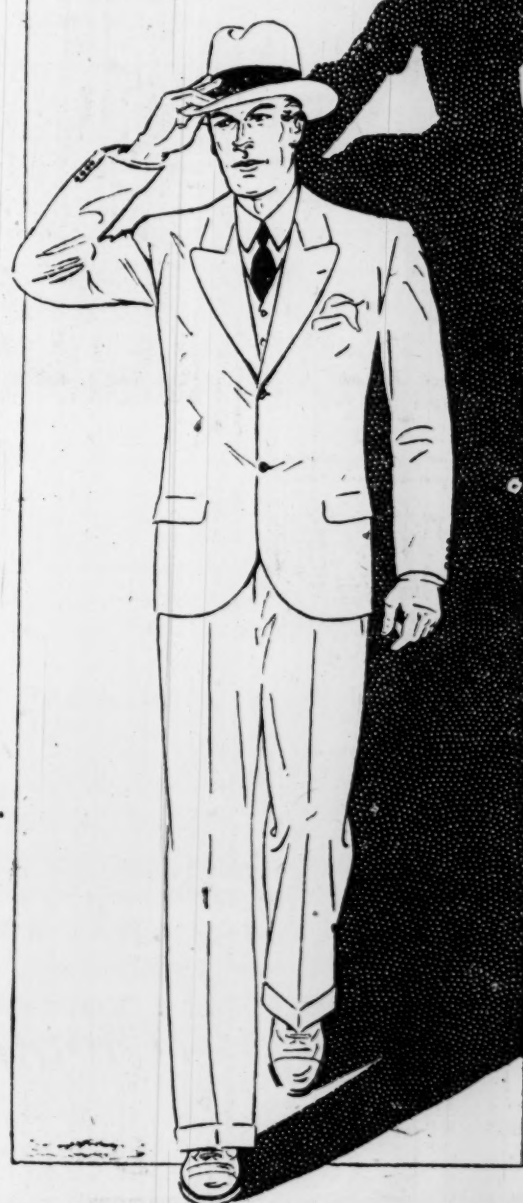

The cross country race is sponsored this year by the Kappa Society of Tech. It is one of the largest of the spring athletic events held by Tech. There will be more than 500 participants in the race. All the students are eligible but all freshmen are compelled to run.

A great deal of interest has been worked up over this race as there are 127 prizes in the form of large cakes donated by young ladies of Atlanta. The first prize is a gold medal and is a coveted reward for the participants in the cross-country race.

Last year Earl Dawson won, setting a new record for the event. After leading the field for the entire distance his time was 21:25. Roy Brewer, who came in second ran the distance in civilian clothes with a pair of heavy army shoes. At the half way mark he was running in 30th place.

The race is to start promptly at 2:30 from Grant field and will be finished before the baseball game between Tech and Mississippi A. and M. It is well worth any one's time to see the start and finish of such an event as this which is probably the largest field to start an event of any kind among southern colleges.

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, March 31.—Spot cotton closed steady 8 points up; sales 2,122; low middling 12.95; middling 14.20; good middling 15.15; receipts 20,241; stock 642,237.

NEW YORK, MARCH 31.—(P)—

Advances were followed by reactions in the cotton market today, but prices firmed up again in late trading on a renewal of covering and local buying which appeared to be based on less favorable weather reports and continued absence of selling pressure from the south. After selling up to 14.39, July reacted to 14.32, but recovered, closing at 14.35. The market closed steady at net advances of 9 to 12 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 9 to 12 points on buying which seemed to be influenced by the unsettled weather in the south and further complaints of delays in farm work. Some shorts were realized at the start as was readily absorbed on moderate setbacks, active months showing net gains of 10 to 11 points during the forenoon on trade buying and covering.

May advanced to 14.17 and October to 14.01, but at those figures offerings seemed to increase somewhat. There was liquidation in the old crop months, or transferring from May and July to the new crop positions, and some local or commission house selling of later deliveries. The latter became more active following a private report that present intensions pointed to a decrease of only 8.7 per cent in lost a part of its advance during the early afternoon.

May sold off to 14.10 and October to 14.06, but there was a renewal of covering at the decline and some of the early sellers seemed to be disappointed over the failure of southern selling to show itself here in late trading. Closing prices were within a point or two of the best.

The private report on acreage prospects placing the probable cotton yield at 8.7 per cent was below figures recently discussed and its failure to stimulate more selling probably increased the disposition to cover shorts in later trading.

Private cables said trade calling and continental buying had absorbed hedge selling and liquidation in Liverpool today.

Exports today were 52,984 bales, making 8,757,430 so far this season. Port receipts, 37,193. U. S. stocks, 2,475,427.

MARKET SWINGS TO NEW HIGHS.

New York, March 31.—(P)—Short covering in the last hour of trading brought cotton prices out of a slump induced by an estimate of a small acreage reduction and swung them to near the day's high marks before closing. July net gains of 7 to 11 points.

The opening was up on the strength of Liverpool cables and an unfavorable weather forecast. The early trading, however, was somewhat unsettled, but prices rose to 9 to 10 points above the previous close, with July trading for 14.39 and October for 14.01.

Shortly afterwards, however, the influence of a private report that the acreage reduction would be more than 8.7 per cent was reflected in a decline which carried July to 14.32 and October to 14.06, but to eight points below the highs, but still two to five points above the previous close. The market then recovered, and by 1:30 p.m. was trading for 14.35 and October for 14.01.

Exports today were 52,984 bales, making 8,757,430 so far this season. Port receipts, 37,193. U. S. stocks, 2,475,427.

Junior Hadassah Revue Provides Clever Program

Combining a clever minstrel with a colorful comic opera, the talented performers of the Junior Hadassah presented its annual benefit feature with well-deserved acclaim from a large audience at the Erlanger theater, Thursday night.

It was that type of entertainment that left with the spectators but two provoking thoughts—that so much skillful preparation must run its course with a single performance, and that another year must pass before the Atlanta chapter again displays its histrionic abilities.

Following the female minstrel, in which beauty was plentiful and wit not lacking, and in which Rosa Kline was given the opportunity to prove herself a facile dancer, and Frances Binkley to show how to present "Give Me a Ukelele" without a ukelele, there came the well-staged comic opera set in a tea garden of a Japanese port, where white-dressed naval officers disposed with petit geisha girls.

Clever Performers.
Here the credible acting of William Van Goldenswan, who wrote the sketch; Abe Orwitz, whose natural theatrical talent may yet furnish Atlanta another cause to honor; Murray Jaffe and Buster Herman, together with Ida Kline, Morris Silver and Sol

Kaufman was highly pleasing. The stage direction of Cliff Daniels and the dancing training of Jane Boyd must be praised.

The minstrel cast included Belle Levy, who acted as interactor (and secretly as pianist for the comic opera), the witty ends, Perle Bokritzky, Stella Miskow, Rosa Kline, Dora Davidson, Ida Ellman and Mary Tesler, and a chorus consisting of Dorothy Feinstein, Tillie Gottlieb, Esther Klein, Esther Seigel, Lee Stone, Sylvia Levine, Paula Klein, Minnie Klein, Pearl Hoffman, Jeannette Shulman, Frances Lewis, Rosalyn Stone, Hattie Gershow, Leah Quinn, Bessie Goldstein, Regina Ungar, Lily Vajda, Ida Cohen, Pearl Epley, Jeannette Shulmeister, Frances Binkley, Esther Lesser, Sara Gordon, Louise Lieberman, Ethel Leffkoff, Helen Epley, Mollie Klein, Jennie Klein, Annette Levine.

Specialty Numbers.
Special numbers were presented by Frances Lewis, Ethel Leffkoff, Frances Binkley, Dora Davidson, Rosa Kline, Belle Levy, Jeannette Shulmeister, Bokritzky and Dorothy Feinstein. Added to this sailor chorus of Bessie Goldstein, Jeannette Shulmeister, Hattie Gershow, Leah Quinn, Sara Gordon and Paula Klein; the geisha girl chorus of Stella Miskow, Perle Bokritzky, Esther Klein, Pearl Hoffman, Tillie Gottlieb, Frances Binkley, Lily Vajda, Ida Cohen, Esther Lesser, Pearl Epley, Sylvia Levine and Frances Binkley; the black bottom chorus of Rosalyn Stone, Molly Klein, Lee Stone, Minnie Klein, Sylvia Levine and Elsie Ruderman; and the male naval chorus, and the brilliant cast was completed.

WEEK PROCLAIMED FOR NEEDY CHILD

The eyes of Georgia will be turned week after next, the week before Easter, to the needs of distressed children within its borders and a statewide appeal for their relief will be made through the Georgia Children's Home society, it was announced Thursday.

The week, ending with Easter Sunday, has been proclaimed by Governor Clifford Walker as "underprivileged children's week" and assistance for orphaned, abandoned, neglected, ill-treated and destitute children will be enlisted through county executive committees of the Georgia Children's Home society and others interested in their condition.

The governor's proclamation follows:

Governor's Proclamation.

"Whereas, the treatment accorded the child today will determine in a large measure whether he will develop into a builder and benefactor of society, a blessing to his community and his state, or a burden to it; and whereas, the child who is neglected, ill-treated, abandoned, or who is otherwise deprived of the care and attention which he needs for his proper development; and whereas, the state of Georgia now is entering upon a period of good times and prosperity in which there should be ample resources to guarantee every child an equal opportunity for useful development;

"Therefore, I, Clifford Walker, governor of Georgia, do hereby proclaim the week of April 11 to 16, inclusive, as 'underprivileged children's week' and do call upon and urge all citizens of Georgia to give thought during that week to the relief of the orphaned, abandoned, ill-treated, neglected and destitute child and do call upon and urge the mayors of all the several cities of Georgia to provide the week of April 11 to 16 in their several cities."

State-Wide Campaign.

The state-wide campaign of the Georgia Children's Home society is to secure a sufficient supporting membership to carry its work on an adequate basis into every county of Georgia in relief of the orphaned, abandoned, ill-treated, neglected and destitute children of the state.

The children have been engaged for several weeks in a state-extension program which was recommended by the state department of public welfare. County executive committees have been established in nearly 50 counties to take active charge of the membership appeal and to continue permanently as contacts between the society and the children who need its help or who already are under its guardianship.

The society, which was organized in 1911 by former Governor W. B. Norther and other leading Georgians, is the only licensed agency for child adoption in Georgia. It has already found foster homes for adoption of 1,500 destitute children and helped twice as many more in other ways. It is supported entirely by free will gifts.

150,000 MINERS REFUSE TO WORK

BY MAURICE MERMET.

Chicago, March 31.—(United News.)—Barring unforeseen developments, 150,000 union miners in the central competitive field will refuse to report for work next week. Actually the strike went into effect at midnight Thursday when the Jackson valley agreement providing a basic wage scale of $7.50 a day expired. But April 1 is a national holiday on which they lay it off to celebrate the anniversary of the eight-hour day, so the full extent of the walkout cannot be determined before Sunday or Monday.

Apparently, both union leaders and operators are jockeying for public favor, meanwhile standing firm in their intentions. Miners demand continuation of the $7.50 basic wage; operators ask that their mines be put on a competitive basis with those in the non-union fields where men can be hired for $4.40 to $5 a day.

The central field, comprising western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois; outlying districts in Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas, will find miners dropping their tools at midnight unless extraordinary results are attained in the short remaining interval. Already 7,000 miners in Iowa have been ordered to walk out, and 12,000 in the three south-western states will follow.

A discussion between union men and the southwestern Interstate Coal Operators' association awaits.
